Militare

The association with silk is due to the characteristics sought and developed in this leather article: smoothness, softness, elegance, elasticity, and resistance to tearing. Of all of them, the lustre stands out, a much-loved quality of this noble and precious natural fibre that DANI has interpreted and translated with a scribe that creates chiaroscuro effects capable of highlighting shapes and relief through variations in light and shade. Seta becomes the interpreter of an exclusive story that has become part of our country's culture and history but readapted in a contemporary key.
